

Royal Arch Masons Are Having Reunion

North Mississippi Royal Arch Masons held a reunion in the Masonic Temple, Thursday, with 100 Masons including Grand Chapter officials attending.

The program was in charge of Grand Lecturer T. O. Gore of Water Valley.

Thirteen candidates were presented, with the degree work being conferred by teams from Wilona, Black Hawk, Water Valley, Greenwood and Grenada.

Other Grand Chapter officers who attended were, R. P. Neblet, Water Valley; O. E. Hunt, Como; E. Cohen, Lexington; Carl Seab, Greenwood.

The Bulldogs Are Visioning Another Championship

(By PETE LAMBERT)

The G. H. S. Bulldogs are riding along on the crest of another North-Central Mississippi District championship for the first time since 1934, when they won the championship that year.

The race, as yet, is still wide open to any one of four teams, Grenada, Charleston and Jeff Davis are tied for first place. None of these teams have been beaten by a confederate foe, and Charleston and Grenada haven't been scored upon.

Oakland is trailing very close behind in second place. They have been beaten only once, Jeff Davis weeks ago in a hard fought contest, which found Oakland having to play without Captain Raspberry.

As I have stated numerous of other times, Grenada is my choice of the four teams. I don't pick them because of sentimental reasons but because of the merits they have won so far this season.

Charleston, as usual, is supposed to be their greatest handicap again this season. If that is true, let's look at the situation from this angle; last year the Bulldogs beat Charleston two touchdowns in an easy fashion, while this year, in the games they have already played, Grenada has the slight edge. They have both met, and been defeated by a strong Clarksdale eleven. Clarksdale beat Charleston four touchdowns, while on the other hand they beat Grenada two touchdowns, but the Bulldogs had the power to score, Charleston didn't.

Reading what I have read, hearing what I've heard, I don't think Charleston has any better team than they had last year, but I know for sure that the Bulldogs are a two to one better team than that of last year. I think Coach Hathorn will back me up on this last statement.

The results of this week's contest will eliminate one of these teams or it will be a two way tie for first and second place. Grenada and Jeff Davis play non-conference foes while Charleston and Oakland engage one another in Charleston (which I don't doubt), these two will be deadlocked for second place. If it turns out the other way Oakland will be eliminated from the race.

As Jeff Davis isn't on the Bulldogs' regular schedule, they won't have to meet them in a regular seasonal game, but if the Dogs defeat Charleston and Oakland they more than likely will have to play them before they will be recognized as champions.

The Bulldogs travel to Oxford this week for a tilt with the University High eleven. A defeat at the hands of the Oxford team wouldn't mar their championship chances, but it would mar a fine season, so Coach Hathorn is working his boys hard to present this.

To every one who wanted to see two good football games Friday, they could by going to Charleston Friday afternoon for the Charleston-Oakland game, then on to Oxford that night for the Grenada-Oxford game.

W. M. Dubard Reaches 91 Years

W. M. Dubard, one of Grenada county's most beloved citizens reached the 91st milestone yesterday. His near relatives gathered, as usual, for the event and many of his friends joined with showers of congratulations and good wishes.

Mr. Dubard was alert in mind and thought when the writer called to extend congratulations yesterday. He conversed philosophically on the serious matters of the day and with a remarkable memory of past events.

"There is no such thing as accurate history," Mr. Dubard said, adding that he knew of the gross inaccuracies in the considerable amount of history which has been written during his long span of life. "There is no way to judge the acts of a man as to right and wrong, in history," Mr. Dubard said, "unless you know the conditions of his time. In the abstract a man may be wrong, and still right when the prompting conditions are considered" he continued.

Of the Civil War period, Abraham Lincoln was the outstanding man of the Unionists and General Robert E. Lee was the greatest man of the Confederacy, Mr. Dubard believes. He is strongly convinced that Andrew Johnson was the most unfortunate man in his being placed in an attitude of sections. The north hated him because he was from the south, and the south despised him because he opposed secession, he explained.

The late O. F. Lawrence, long time publisher of The Grenada Sentinel, is listed by Mr. Dubard as having been one of his closest and most beloved friends.

Bilbo Not To Meddle—Maybe

(By United Press)

JACKSON, Miss.—Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo announced today he would not intervene in Mississippi's gubernatorial election next year "unless forced to do so."

Bilbo predicted Paul Johnson would be elected but said he would not support him publicly unless "somebody tries to monkey with my business."

Part of his business, the Senator revealed, was a $60-a-month old age pension plan which he will push in the next session of congress. He said President Roosevelt assured him of support for the measure if the Senator could find a source for the money.

Bilbo said the scheme was workable without additional taxes. He proposed to have the federal government pay the aged $30 monthly and let the states match the "dollar for dollar of with as much as they can stand."

Grenada Hi to Oxford

Grenada High football team will go to Oxford Friday afternoon to play University High. The game will climax the Armistice Day program.

Saturday Grenada High School Band will enter the band festival there at the first annual High School Day. Other bands attending are Whitehaven and Millington, Tenn., Tupelo, Moorhead, Oxford, Aberdeen, Indianapolis, and Charleston.

A large number of high school supporters and band boosters from Grenada will go to Oxford the week-end to attend these events.

BOOSTER CLUB MEETS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

The Grenada Band Booster's Club met in the high school Monday night Nov. 7, with an unusually large attendance.

Mr. Scott Calloway made a most impressive talk on what band work has meant to him.

Mr. Dollarhide gave a drum demonstration which was very interesting as well as informative.

Van Nuys Is In Lead Again

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Sen. Frederick Van Nuys, D., incumbent, took the lead early today from his Republican opponent, Raymond Willis, in their nip and tuck race for the U. S. Senatorship, on the basis of nearly complete returns from Tuesday's elections.

Unofficial returns gave Van Nuys a margin of 1,192 with only 234 precincts to be tabulated. The state-wide vote, 3,638 of 3,872 precincts, gave Van Nuys, 733 and Willis 732,587.

LaGrone Has Rotary Program

Pete LaGrone had charge of the Armistice Day program at the Rotary Club, Tuesday, which was most impressive from a standpoint of Americanism.

After making some pointed remarks, which summarized the losses of war generally, and to youths especially, Mr. LaGrone, presented John Pressgrove, a Legionnaire, to read a recent address by a Legionnaire to a group of High School students, which was perhaps one of the most interesting treatises of Americanism that has ever been written or spoken.

It warned, specifically, against being led by new theories which claimed that conditions had changed, make changes in the government, so as to make it necessary to The duty to preserve this government handed down, by the fathers, rests with the youth, who will be the voters tomorrow, it was impressed.

Shark Tireless Swimmer

Sydney, Australia—During the four years that Skipper IV, a gray nurse shark, has been confined in the local aquarium pool and where it has never been seen to stop swimming, it is estimated that the fish covered 105,120 miles at three miles per hour. It has also eaten 5,840 pounds of kingfish and bonito during that time.

The Post Office, banks and many other local business houses will be closed in honor of the Twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. Post 35 of the American Legion has arranged appropriate ceremonies for the occasion.

Local Democrats Are Jubilant Over Election

It might belong in the Ripley believe it or not column, but three fourths of the Grenada populace—practically all of whom are Democrats—are jubilant over the so-called Republican Congressional and Gubernatorial victories.

And those who are rejoicing believe these victories are Democrat's victories—believe that or not.

This most unusual situation is perhaps explainable by the fact that Grenadians, in the large part still believe that the principle of Democracy is still one of local self government, certain individual rights and state rights. The so-called Republicans who were victorious in the North and East, won on platforms of individual and state rights, it so happens while Murphy, in Michigan, and Earle in Pennsylvania though wearing a Democrat title, represented an opposite school of thought.

Interesting Letter From Dr. Ferguson

Editor Grenada Sentinel,
Grenada, Miss.
Dear Mr. Editor:

Having no ax to grind, if I had one, would not be very particular where the chips fell and trusting I may not be imposing on you for space. I am encouraged to express in a common sense way what appears to me the best way to balance the budget and perhaps better conditions. It is with no prejudice or desire for my own future that I find myself disturbed. I simply have a sense of something like the country with few exceptions may have fallen into the hands of wrong theorists.

The government seems to be run on a basis of reckless extravagance. Any private business run on such a basis would go into bankruptcy sooner or later and what applies to the government also applies to the states and municipalities. It seems the attitude of some officials has been somewhat antagonistic to business and a certain degree of prejudice has been aroused whether this is true or not, we are facing difficulties that the country is far from prosperity. Some may ask what is the remedy. The remedy in my opinion is to do what Mr. Roosevelt said he was first elected president, reduce taxation. How can taxation be reduced and still meet the expenses of government, obviously by reducing the expenses of government. Like the government many municipalities are burdened with an excess of officeholders to pay, when the very like of the people is drained for taxes. There should be less schools and more farm education. The boys and girls in the schools need to be given more sound education in farming. It is useless to try to educate a person beyond their intellect. Not every one can take a high education. Some are like myself, you might send us to school all our lives and we would never be a big scholar. As Mr. Ford has said, go back to the country and

LaGuardia Wants To Rally The New Deal Forces

NEW YORK—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia today invited all Liberal leaders to meet with him in Washington next week to solidify their forces in the face of losses in Tuesday's election.

He asked particularly Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Wisconsin; Sen. George W. Norris, Nebraska, and Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan who was defeated for re-election.

"As I analyze the results of the election, I believe one must be realistic about it and admit that the Progressive forces in several states seemingly have been disintegrated," he said.

"Eliminating New Jersey, where I do not think the question of progressivism enters at all, I am willing to admit that there has been a decided setback."

"You have a situation of supporters of Progressive, humane, economic welfare legislation being opposed by the old line parties; you have candidates in the Democratic party who are sympathetic with Progressive legislation, and you have Progressive candidates in the Republican party who do not agree with the control and management of the party, and the result is an increased strength to the forces of reaction."

"That means but one thing—the Progressive forces in this country have got to get together. It also means that labor must adjust its differences, and it also means that there must be a well defined, clear, concise, Progressive program."

Quins Recovering

CALLENDER, Ont.—The Dionne quintuplets were in bed today with sore throats, but well on the road to recovery from tonsil and adenoids operations.

They were uncertain about what had happened to them, but accepted it philosophically after Dr. Alan Brown of Toronto explained that they would feel better when it was all over.

Dr. Alan Roy Defoe who brought the babies into the world in a backwoods farm house four and a half years ago and has cared for them since, absented himself from the scene that the babies would not associate any of the unpleasantness with him. He remained close to the operating room, however and was first to inform the townspeople outside that "everything is all right."

F. D. R. Studies Wage-Hour Loss

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—President Roosevelt studied today a report from Elmer Andrews, wage and hours administrator, who estimated that less than 50,000 workers have lost their jobs as a result of the act.

These 50,000, Andrews reported, represented less than one-half of one per cent of the workers affected, and he said "a number of field reports suggest that when all readjustments are completed, total employment will have been increased rather than decreased as a result of the act."

The report said that 90 percent of the workers laid off were employed in four industries: pecan shelling, tobacco stemming, lumber and bagging.

"Many of the lay-offs reported are not due primarily to the new act. Among the more important contributing factors are seasonal changes in activity, substitution of efficient and inefficient workers and curtailment as an offset to abnormally increased activities prior to the effective date of the act," Andrews reported.

First Federal Holiday

Federal Employees will be permitted to observe Armistice Day for the first time Friday. Previously post offices remained open.

The final terracing demonstration with the power unit being used throughout the county in cooperation with the Mississippi Road Supply Company will be held on the farm of J. L. Elliott at Holcomb (today), Friday, November 11. All farmers in Beat 5 are urged to attend this demonstration and witness the building of terraces at such a low cost. This equipment will construct drainage ditches even more economically, than terraces, and, in addition, pulls stumps, trees and fills gullies.

The farmers of Grenada county are forfeiting an unearned soil building AAA payments enough money this year to pay the purchase price of a power unit. Farmers and farm leaders that are familiar with the operation of these units are agreed that this is the most practical and economical method of constructing terraces and demonstrations.

More than two hundred of our leading farmers have attended the five demonstrations conducted the past week and all are agreed that Grenada county should have at least one unit. AAA soil building payments are more than sufficient to pay the farmers' cost of terracing.

A summary of the results of our demonstrations to date show a total of 31,000 feet of terraces at an average cost of 22c per 100 feet, while our AAA payment is 75c per 100 feet. This actual cost of 22c per 100 feet is equivalent to 88c per acre. While our AAA will more than pay the cost of terracing our farmers should grasp this opportunity to conserve and build up their soils.

Detailed results of our demonstrations are as follows:

| W. O. Geeslin, feet of terraces 6,950, cost $20.00, AAA Payment $43.95, cost per 100 feet $0.35. |
| W. J. Jennings, feet of terraces 11,684, cost $42.00, AAA payment $70.83, cost per 100 feet $0.27. |
| C. L. Trussell, feet of terraces 4,145, cost $20.00, AAA payment $31.08, cost per 100 feet $0.20. |
| W. R. Turnbo feet of terraces 5,610, cost $22.00, AAA payment $42.07, cost per 100 feet $0.35. |
| J. B. Keeton, feet of terraces 12,210, cost $32.65, AAA payment $75.62, cost per 100 feet $0.33. |

Whiteman Singer Proves Popular

Singer-pianist Joan Edwards, included in the Paul Whiteman-Chesterfield broadcasts for the first time last April, is becoming one of the most popular new personalities on the air, according to fan mail receipts of Columbia Broadcasting System.

"The vogue for Miss Edwards' blues and swing numbers appears to arise particularly from the colleges and prep schools of the land. She was voted "most popular radio singer" at Duke University, has an inscribed heart locket from Washington & Lee undergraduates, and has headed "proms" for New York University, Lafayette University and again this week for the University of Pennsylvania.

Miss Edwards' talents fit particularly well into the pattern of the great director, Paul Whiteman, for her vocal and piano skill has besides the warmth of personality, the assurance gained from an intensive classical musical education and specialized instruction from George Gershwin's first teacher, Raphael Saumell, and from Mme. Carolina Lazzari, teacher of Frank Perker.

The Paul Whiteman programs are broadcast nationally every Wednesday evening over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Home Is No Place For The Family Washing

Modern science definitely has proved that the family washing is made more hygienically clean in today's modern commercial laundries than is possible with the facilities available in the home. The new famous Home Washing Survey which attracted so much attention at recent conventions of the American Medical Association has given amazing new and authentic facts on the "hygienically safe" handling of the family washing.

Samples of the last rinse water were taken from wringings in 10 typical American homes for a period of 30 consecutive weeks, a total of 300 average washings. Samples of the last rinse water were also taken from 10 typical laundries. All these samples were submitted to a bacteriological laboratory for analysis. The results are what was found. The average bacteric count in the last rinse water from home washings was 318,792 bacteric per cubic centimeter of last rinse water. The average bacteric count in the last rinse water from 10 commercial laundries was 61 bacteric per cubic centimeter of last rinse water.

THE REASONS: Modern commercial laundries through scientific research and study at their million dollars proving ground at Joliet, Illinois, have perfected methods (not practiced elsewhere) of washing clothes hygienically clean. Laundries are equipped to maintain exact water temperatures throughout every operation. Laundries use nine changes of water and never re-use any of it. Laundries use three times as much water per pound of clothes as to be used in the home.

If you have not sent your washing to a modern commercial laundry recently try it during the coming week. Every housewife wants her washing hygienically clean.

French Government Not To Release Youth

PARIS—Legal experts predicted today that the government would be compelled to reject any German demand for extradition of Herschel Fripel Grynspan, 17 year old Jew who shot and gravely wounded Ernst Von Rath, third Secretary of the German Embassy. Jurists said that under French law the assailant must be tried in France.

Rath's condition remained most serious today. He had been shot through the lungs and stomach. He had received blood transfusions after two operations.

Adolf Hitler's own physician, Dr. Brandt, and Prof. Georg Magnus, head of the Surgical Clinic of Munich University, arrived by special airplane at Hitler's order today to examine Rath.

An aunt and uncle of the assailant were arrested, accused of harboring an undesirable alien. Both are Polish Jews.

The assailant insisted that he visited the German Embassy determined to shoot the first German he encountered as a protest against Germany's deportation of Polish Jews.

Police said they found that Grynspan's father, one of those deported, wrote the youth from a refugee camp. The letter, which the assailant received last Friday, said:

"We are now without a penny. We were not even able to carry clothing with us."

Relations against Jews in Germany was foreshadowed in editorials. Dispatches from Vienna said that demonstrations started late last night in Jewish districts in connection with the shooting. Crowds assembled in front of Synagogues, smashed some windows and beat Jewish passers-by.

Vienna newspapers carried the headline:

"Jews will bear the consequences for the cowardly murder." (Rath was in grave condition today.)

Adolf Hitler paid close attention to the incident and sent his personal physician, Dr. Brandt, and Prof. Georg Magnus, head of the surgical clinic of Munich University, to Paris to tend Rath.

Newspapers connected the Paris shooting with the assassination of Wilhelm Gustloff, German Nazi agent in Switzerland, by David Frankfurter, a Jew, in 1936, and blamed both incidents on "international Jewry."

The Nazi party official newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, sounded the keynote for comment: "The Paris shots will not only mark a new German attitude toward the Jewish problem but will also, it is to be hoped, be the signal for those foreigners who so far have recognized that in the last analysis international Jewry alone has hindered understanding between nations."

"It goes without saying that the German people will draw consequences from this new deed. It is impossible that within our boundaries hundreds of thousands of Jews own entire streets and stores, populate places of entertainment and as 'foreign' landlords pocket the rent of German tenants while their co-racials abroad incite to war against Germany and shoot down German officials."

The Praetorian Kurier, Organ of Julius Streicher, leader of the extreme anti-Jewish faction in the Nazi party, said:

"National Socialist Germany is accustomed to reciprocal blows with blows and crimes not with crimes but with laws given by the Fuehrer. The law following upon this monstrous deed will be harsh and clear. It will open the eyes of a too tolerant world as to where the enemy of peace of nations is to be found."

"It is self evident that Germany will reply to these shots, but direct its answer not at the French, who did not shoot, but as Judaism which shot."

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung said:

"The entire German nation and the German Reich stand behind the victim of merely in plaintive mourning but with acts by the state's power."

Said Germania:

"There can be no doubt that the crime can not go unatoned . . . Paris will understand that the answer which Germany must give to this new Jewish provocation will not be directed at the French people of the French government but solely against those emigre quarters which abuse the hospitality of this country."

Search For Missing Woman After Her Baggage Was Found

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Authorities here and in New York searched today for a Mrs. Loretta Schaeffer, whose baggage was found aboard a Long Island steamship.

Providence police wondered if she had jumped into the sea from the Colonial Line Ship, Comet, perhaps with her husband and baby. Her stateroom was empty, the door locked and its key missing. In the baggage was woman's clothing, a man's pajamas and baby apparel.

They reported that New York police had learned that Mrs. Schaeffer had written to a prospective landlady in Forest Hills that she would be unable to occupy the apartment on which she had paid a deposit because her husband had been killed in an automobile accident.

Mrs. Schaeffer had rented the Forest Hills apartment last Friday when she paid the landlady, described by police here as "a Mrs. Loden," a $5 deposit. She told Mrs. Loden her husband was "Dr. William F. Schaeffer."

New York police reported their records showed no automobile accident in which a "Dr. Schaeffer" was the victim.

O Saturday, the Comet arrived here from New York and Mrs. Schaeffer's empty stateroom was discovered.

In New York, however, it was discovered that a Mrs. Schaeffer had been registered at the Hotel White on Friday and Saturday. The letter to Mrs. Loden had been mailed from there. Hotel employees reported they saw no baby or man with Mrs. Schaeffer while she was there.

Capt. George Cobb of the Comet and Colonial Line officials said they believed Mrs. Schaeffer might have boarded the vessel, placed her bag in the stateroom and then returned ashore. The baggage was returned to the New York office of the line but it remained unclaimed.

Long Lost Son Meets Mother And Then Weds

CARSONVILLE, Mo.—After a separation of 24 years, Mrs. James W. Frye found her only son, Robert L. Dirden, 33, of Chicago. Two days later she gained a daughter-in-law.

The reunion of mother and son for the first time since 1914 was celebrated by Dirden's marriage to Miss Natalie Querio of Iron Mountain, Mich.

When Robert Dirden was 7 his mother, then Mrs. Dirden, lived in DuQuoin, Ill. She and her husband separated, and she was forced to place her son in an orphan's home. When he was 9, he was placed in another orphanage, and she lost trace of him.

Mrs. Dirden moved to Carsonville, and was remarried. Robert was transferred to several orphanages and in 1921 ran away to become a newsboy in Chicago. Later he became a tumbler in vaudeville and for the past nine years he has been employed by a vaudeville troupe.

Mother and son continued their search for one another. Recently Dirden wrote the orphanage at DuQuoin and learned that a Mrs. Frye had inquired concerning him. Because of the difference in names he did not realize Mrs. Frye was his mother until he met her here.

Riverdale H. D. Club Met November 3rd

The Riverdale Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting Thursday, November 3rd in the home of Mrs. W. N. Hayward with Mrs. Jack Gresham as co-hostess. Eighteen members were present and one visitor, Mrs. Rosa Thompson, of Pearridge. One new member, Mrs. J. L. Townes, was taken into the club at this meeting.

At this meeting new officers were elected and the results were Mrs. E. L. Boteler was reelected president, Mrs. W. N. Hayward was elected vice president, Mrs. F. B. Coats, Jr., was elected secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Boteler appointed Mrs. W. N. Hayward and Mrs. Jack Gresham the project leaders for next year. Mrs. Boteler also appointed a finance committee, composed of Mrs. J. L. Cooley and Mrs. H. D. Lane, to decide on ways of raising money for the club.

A contest called "Ships" was enjoyed and Mrs. H. D. Lane and Mrs. F. B. Coats, Jr. were the winners, and received a flower pot and a cream pitcher.

The hostess served delicious chicken salad, iced tea and cakes.

Son Of Evangelist Goes To Trial For Triple Murder

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
NEW YORK—Robert Irwin, the son of an evangelist, goes to trial today for a triple murder. The jury will decide whether he was crazy or sane when he slipped into the home of the beautiful artist's model, Veronica Gedeon, and killed a male boarder, the girl and her mother.

One hundred and fifty candidates for the jury were called, a jury which must choose either the lunatic asylum or the electric chair for Irwin, a none so successful sculptor who confessed to the triple slaying on Easter eve last year. The trial was expected to last a month.

Psychiatrists will battle for Irwin's life. Samuel Leibowitz, his attorney, who has never lost a client to the chair, was expected to acknowledge Irwin's guilt but contend that he, a former asylum inmate, was insane when he committed the murders. The state, led by assistant District Attorney Jacob L. Rosenblum who has never lost a case, will contend that Irwin was sane.

Under New York law, a killer cannot be executed if it is proved that at the time of the deed he did not know "the nature or quality" of the act nor that the act was wrong.

Irwin confessed in Chicago three months after the triple slaying that because his love had been spurned by the elder sister of the artist's model, Ethel, he had committed the murder. She had married another man, Joseph Kudner. He said that he had wanted to murder Ethel, but Veronica known as "Ronnie," attempted to lure him away from her while he was a lodger in Mrs. Gedeon's rooming house. Irwin said he went to the Gedeon home the Saturday night before Easter and lay in wait for Ethel. Mrs. Gedeon was at home but didn't want to talk to him. She asked him to leave. Then, Irwin confessed, he choked her to death and shoved her body under a bed.

Fall Homecoming At M. S. C. W.

M. S. C. W. alumnae everywhere are looking forward to the Fall Homecoming which will be held this year on November 11 and 12 at M. S. C. W.

The program begins with a well known dance recital, presented by Miss Emma Ody Pohl, Head of the Physical Education Department.

On the morning of the 12th, the alumnae will visit the many buildings on the campus. At 11:00 o'clock they will participate in the College program which rededicates Main Dormitory. This building in its newly decorated state will be presented by Major Calvin Wells, II, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Mississippi Colleges. It will be accepted by Dr. B. L. Parkinson, President of the College. At this time Main Dormitory will be given the new name of Callaway Hall, which is done in recognition of the work of a first and outstanding member of the M. S. C. W. faculty, Miss J. S. Callaway. Many of Miss Callaway's former students and friends are returning for the ceremony. O this program will also be Mrs. Noble Hamilton Pace of Cleveland, Miss., who is President of the M. S. C. W. Alumnae Association.

At 12:30 o'clock the alumnae and Board of Trustees will assemble for a luncheon. At 2:00 there will be a very important meeting of representatives from the M. S. C. W. alumnae chapters who will come from everywhere in Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and Louisiana. Later there will be social features honoring the alumnae.

As a climax to the program there will be the traditional and loved Junior-Freshman Wedding on Saturday night, to be followed by the reception given by the junior class for all College visitors.

Tickets for the dance program and Junior-Freshman Wedding, luncheon, and reservations for rooms may be made with the alumnae office at the College.

Jews Forbidden From Fascism

ROME—The Cabinet today approved a decree that Italian citizens of the Jewish race shall no longer be inscribed in the rolls of the Fascist party.

Other decrees which the Cabinet approved concerned the creation of a chamber of Fascist corporations, long planned to replace the chamber of deputies, and a national corporative council.

TREASURE HUNTERS BORE FOR LONG HIDDEN GOLD

RICHMOND, Cal.—John Ards and J. McEldrew have given up the monotonous life of farming for the more exciting one of boring for Spanish gold and treasure.

The immediate object of their search is gold which was worth $52,000,000 at the time it is supposed to have been buried by Spanish pirates 150 years ago. The present value of the gold would be about $80,000,000.

They have installed a modern boring plant at Queenscliff, where the treasure is supposed to be hidden.

When the shaft penetrated below sea level and it began filling up with sea water they installed machinery capable of pumping out 60,000 gallons an hour. To date, however, the sea has steadily won out, but a new syndicate is being formed to continue the operations on an even greater scale.

Search For Body
GULFPORT, Miss.—Coast Guardsmen today looked for the body of Lennie P. Mayon, 38, second victim of a fire aboard a light-house service ship.

The body of William DeLong, 49, was found Saturday by a Biloxi shrimping boat, five days after the men left here with supplies for Chanleure Island where DeLong was assistant keeper of the lighthouse. Mayon was second assistant keeper at the Ship Island light.

Pieces of charred wreckage indicated the 25-foot boat had been destroyed by fire, although the origin for the blaze could not be explained.

INTERESTING LETTER

farm. Every person should know something of country life, I feel it makes us better citizens. The average boy or girl raised in the country is better fitted to be good in the city than those raised in the city. We got to get back to economic realities. We must get wise to the fact that economy in government, like charity, begins at home.

It does seem to me for the government and others to balance the budget, the government must do more work for less pay. Taxes could be lessened if the cost of government were lessened. That it was necessary for the government to step into what certainly was an economical crisis when President Roosevelt first took the office, there can be no doubt, but it is equally clear what the administration in Washington did not vision the way clear through to the end. The end may be a nation of people burdened with taxation, so excessive, that even those who might have been in a position to carry on, will be wrecked with everybody else.

The billions upon billions of public debts that has been piled up must ultimately be paid. Pay-day is sure to come and it is beside the mark to say that those who are best able to pay will have to pay.

I regret to say that a great many American people have come to look to the government at Washington to furnish them with employment. It does something the government has been doing, but it is also something that the government cannot possibly continue to do. It seems in Congress think we could spend ourselves rich again, buy back prosperity with borrowed money and get out of debt by going deeper into it. Such an idea only make matters worse than they were before. Any one with half a brain to think and who will stop to do it cannot be but dismayed at the burden of countless laws that hamper the people of this country in their freedom of action. Those laws have by this time created a situation which is next door to tragic.

No session of Congress and few of the State Legislatures are ever adjourned before new burdens have been loaded on the taxpayers. Not more laws but more feeling of responsibility for the general good of the people in reality patriotism would seem to be the best answer. So many silly laws that even an adding machine cannot begin to count, laws that interfere not only with liberty but with natural ambition to better one's condition in life. The U. S. Congress and Legislators should not pass another law telling people what to do. My idea of Democracy has always been a system under which the people learned what they ought to do instead of being told what they must do. I resent the barrier created by the government against people free action of life and his full liberty to go where he pleased and do as he pleased so long as he injured no other human being. If all men and women would govern themselves, there would be no need for armies or navies, police forces or Congress. If we would do unto others as they would have others do to them there would be no need of laws.

Government business, labor farmer and ordinary citizen leadership, all of which has indulged in too much confused thinking on national problems. The time is here when the nation's businessmen, its agriculture spokesmen must work out our problems by sound and dispassionate thinking. Because all that has been achieved, there is still sorrow, loss and despair in the world. Millions of people are in want lacking the essentials of life. Those who live in large cities live in a hurry and scurry that makes life go with speed. We are all living in an age of Commercialism.

Commercialism, of course, has advanced civilization in some ways. It has led us to the perfection of machines which enables us to talk with people in Europe. To travel from coast to coast by air and to drag our homes behind our automobiles. Yet, the influence of commercialism has been far from entirely wholesome. It causes men and women to seek the intoxication of city life as they do that of strong wine and after the roar of the city the quiet of country seems to them unbearable. They love the contact of their fellowman and woman the wonderful variety of sight and sound and the new attractions that they all ways find and having tasted of the stimulants will not leave pavements for green fields. Civilization of which we have knowledge crash when the people abandoned the land to herd themselves in cities. Statistics inform us that quite all of the cities in the United States are either in a state of bankruptcy or bordering upon it. If this is true, it seems inevitable that to meet the burden that most cities must bear because of high taxation to the extent of confiscation of property will end in destruction. There is getting to be too many people in the cities. The people in the large cities may be some day driven by necessity out of the cities and scattered out of the congested centers of population more broadly over the country itself. However, we are happy to know there are a few people left who have grasped and who persist in retaining a philosophy which renders them immune from the virus that poisons the blood of men and women.

Mr. Editor, I trust you and readers of your paper may not think me presumptuous in offering suggestions or ideas. In coming back to Grenada I miss so many faces that were long familiar and well beloved. To the bereaved ones for those that have departed from this life, I write my expression of sympathy. I have yet found no word that can fully express my sorrow and grief for a loved one lost. Its those who are left behind that must bear the heartaches and sorrow.

In conclusion, let me say words are inadequate for me to express my appreciation to the people here both white and colored for their kind words of welcome and kindness to me. In return I trust that I may be of some interest to the public here.

Respectfully,
Wm. F. Ferguson.

Ole Miss News

UNIVERSITY, Miss. — Kimble Bradley, husky University of Mississippi senior quarterback, today was receiving new acclaim as the smartest field general on Dixie's gridirons.

Captain of the Johnny Rebs' near-sophomore array, Bradley has marshaled the Ole Miss offensive into a potent force, to be reckoned with by every major opponent on the Ole Miss slate.

Bradley has been the field general on practically every scoring march the Rebels have generated this year, and their record of but one loss in seven games will attest to his all-round efficiency as a field general.

"Bradley's a really great quarterback," admits Harry Mehre, his coach. "He's smart as they come, and he never loses his head in the pinch."

"More than that, he is the best blocking back I've seen in years. As captain of the team he is an inspiration to his mates. And his fine defensive skill has helped us out of many a difficulty during the season."

Bradley packs 195 pounds on an extremely mobile frame. He is a terrific blocker and has no superior in the Southeastern conference, at least, as a field tactician.

MISSISSIPPI LEADS IN FERTILIZER GRADES

Mississippi retained national leadership in rationalizing grades of fertilizer, when at a recent meeting of leadership comprising all phases of the industry it was determined to manufacture and sell only 9 grades of complete fertilizer during the coming year the smallest number in any state.

A decade ago more than 1,000 grades of fertilizer were recorded in the United States, with more than 100 in Mississippi. This led to confusion to purchasers and to added expense in manufacture. Mississippi led the way from disorder, when in 1928 the number of grades was reduced from more than 100 to only 27, and when the minimum plant food content of fertilizer was established at 16 units.

"The fact that during recent years Mississippi farmers have supplied practically all their fertilizer requirements from only 8 or 4 grades indicates that numerous grades are neither necessary nor desirable," stated J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture.

"The meeting was held at Biloxi a few days ago was significant. Attending were representatives of all leading fertilizer concerns doing business in Mississippi, of the State Department of Agriculture and the State Chemist, Extension Department, Experiment Stations, and Soil Conservation Service. On the basis of thousands of experiments, the Experiment Stations made definite recommendations and the grades so recommended, plus grades for which farmers have indicated their preference by considerable purchases, plus new grades for which a need was indicated, were found to answer all the purposes involved. On this basis, the following grades were adopted for manufacture and sale in Mississippi during 1939:

|-------|--------|
| 3-8-5 | 6-12-6 |
| 4-8-4 | 0-12-6 |
| 4-8-8 | 4-8-8 |
| 6-8-4 | 8-4-6 |
| 6-8-8 | |

"Two purposes are back of the plan of reducing the number of fertilizer grades to the smallest number required in Mississippi agriculture. The first, of course, is economy; the second, is that by restricting the number of these grades found best, any farmer who buys fertilizer is sure of receiving a good and economical source of plant food."

Smith County Sheriff Indicted

RALEIGH, Miss.—Sheriff J. M. Martin and his brother and bookkeeper, Deputy Sheriff R. C. Martin, today were indicted by the Smith county grand jury on charges of embezzling more than $18,000.

The sheriff, charged with taking $145, was released under $1,000 bond after being arrested by Justice of the Peace G. H. Long. His brother, accused of taking $17,000, was arrested on an embezzlement affidavit before the indictments were returned.

Charges resulted from an audit of the county's books by the State Tax Collector.

Village Sold To Pay Wages Of Phone Girl

ORANGEVILLE, Ont.—The entire Dufferin county village of Helling Green has been sold at auction to pay the back wages of a telephone operator.

Most of the village, including a private telephone line linking 400 farms, was owned by Henry Edgar, who died last year, leaving no will.

Miss Phyllis Maltby had worked as the village switchboard operator for six years without being paid, and she claimed $600 in back wages.

So it was decided to sell the village to satisfy her claim. Bidding at the auction was slow, and the auctioneer was barely able to raise the $600. Among the objects sold was an old horse for $25, an old table for $1, a box of odds and ends for 10 cents, a blacksmith shop and a few old, vacant houses and lots.

AMERICA MAY HAVE TO FIGHT ALONE

Should America become entangled in the Orient, it is not probable that we would have much sympathy in Europe, or Western Asia. In fact there is no reason why America should have sympathy from that section, for in matters that concerned them vitally, there has been a well-publicized aloofness on this side of the Atlantic.

When the facts are faced, the sad truth is that the foreign policy of this country has been one which neither lent its force against aggressions or kept faith with the dead—those who were conscripted, sent across the sea, and died believing they were sacrificing their lives to defend the world against monarchies and dictators.

It is a fact too well-known, and must be previously admitted, that while the comrades of those who shed their blood to rid the world of a menacing dictator of that time succeeded—that dictator has also been succeeded by others more dangerous, more grasping—and whose ruthless conquests are almost unparalleled in history. Through it all America has looked on silently, and thus half-way given its approval.

In the meantime, such strong allies of America as Britain and France have bowed their knees in humility to the crack of the more modern dictators' whips. They have sacrificed countries—almost continents—to the iron-handed rulers which have given them accumulated powers to herald against the New World, if necessary in the course of their ruthless plans.

The Oriental Conquerors have plainly shown an alliance with the European Conquerors, and the sum total of them shown—at all times nothing more than the natural proclivities of murderers and robbers.

And speaking of robbers—thereby hangs the tale. A careful study of Hitler for example has shown that his persecution of the Jews was not so much a matter of personal hatred, but the picking upon them for two reasons which are practical for a ruthless course such as his. First the Jews were a minority, and one establishing a Dictatorship could afford to do nothing more than persecute a minority, and second the Jews generally were rich, and would be foolish when robbery was in the plan to rob the poor.

Mussolini has followed the cue and is doing it too. With the hijacking of the Jews completed Hitler started on the Catholic Church riches—it's very doubtful that Mussolini can follow suit in this respect.

For loot, the Americans afford the greatest opportunities, as do they for the relief of crowded population also. It is logical to suppose tat to secure other gifts for their followers, America will be considered.

Now Japan has all but openly threatened America. With all respect to Secretary of State Hull, who is perhaps the greatest man of the executive department of the government at Washington, it's sheer foolishness, at this stage of the game to attempt to tell Japan what she can or cannot do in the Orient. America has done nothing to merit even British support in a crisis. At present neither Britain, France, Germany, Italy or Russia would give a rap what happened to America in case of a conflict with Japan, unless there was something else at stake for those countries.

THE WHY OF GOVERNMENT—

Some years ago, teachers of governmental philosophy stood before their classes and told student bodies that the one mission of government was to protect the weak against the strong. The strong could take care of themselves, the instructor often would say.

In this connection, it was necessary to explain that while a Democracy depended on a "majority rule" in most matters, it was expedient that in certain instances minorities have protection—even the individual have certain "inherent rights" that a majority or even a government could not take from him. The Constitution of the United States with its "Bill of Rights" was pointed to as a bulwark of safety for individual and minority group rights, which included the rights to the pursuit of happiness, to Life, Liberty, Free Speech, and Property, all of which has been interpreted wisely, throughout the years, to mean that citizens had a right to work at such times as they wished, sow as they wished, reap whatever quantity they sowed and sell as much as they reaped to whosoever wished to buy it.

Now, however one hears a new philosophy expounded, under the guise of Democracy—one that would forbid an individual the right to bargain for himself, in the matter of employment, one that would tell a man what and how much he can sow, permit one man to reap and sell one amount and others an entirely different amount.

To thus prostitute the civil rights guaranteed by the constitution, this system, holds so-called elections with the machinery in the hands of the bureau which exercise the power of suppression—or oppression—and with the voters hearing promises of checks, subsidies gratuities, and fearing shortened allotments while "voting." Naturally a "plebiscite" of this kind will show a "majority," and this "majority" is then dubbed "Democratic rule."

But it must be remembered that there are certain things that a majority does not have the right to take from one. It is on this ledge that many have slipped and fallen for the so-called "Democratic" angle of fascist control over production and labor. A most extreme angle to represent the abuse of a majority may be found in any mob which takes the life of one whom the community, in large numbers, has turned against. Or even suppose that some fellow who had been dubbed the community "hold back" or a monkey wrench in the wheels of progress could be killed by a majority vote of those who decided the community would be better off if his life were taken.

Any move which gives the majority the right to rule over the private and inherent rights of any individual is as absurd—in fact it is based on the mob spirit itself—the mob spirit in getting votes and the mob spirit in obtaining a livelihood.

Election Returns Show Conservatism

By Lyle C. Wilson
NEW YORK — An abrupt National swing toward the Republican party gave President Roosevelt good ground today either to close ranks with left wingers or form an alliance with conservative Democrats for the 1940 presidential campaign.

Tuesday's general election cut down promising administration political timber. It left Mr. Roosevelt still more emphatically the strongest man in sight to head a hundred percent New Deal ticket in 1940.

Stocks were up and business apparently reassured by the republican victories. Left wing leaders at once saw the danger of their divided house and set about to consolidate.

New York Mayor LaGuardia Fusion leader and American labor party statesman, summoned outstanding Progressive leaders to meet in Washington next week—object, coalition, LaGuardia called the election a "decided setback."

President Roosevelt, at his Hyde Park, N. Y. home, was less specific's spokesmen said he was "feeling very happy and grand."

Former President Herbert C. Hoover raised the conservative Coalition flag and called upon conservative Democrats to join Republicans to stop the New Deal.

The returns add up to something considerably short of election landslide. The administration retains large congressional majorities, but the opposition as come out of a coma. Furthermore not all legislators tagged "Democrat" will be found in New Deal ranks. There is a sizeable bloc which may be ready to bolt the President.

Rebuff now from Democratic conservatives and alliances of the left wing New Deal with so-called radical minor parties might draw Mr. Roosevelt into another range and the issue two years hence would be—A third term.

His decisions are just around the corner. Factors favoring a return of conservative Democratic influence in administration councils include the practical possibility that anti-New Deal Democrats may join with the reinforced Republican party in congress next session to junk new Roosevelt legislation and reshape that which already is law.

Opposing a fundamental reconciliation of the so-called Garner-Farley Democrats with the New Deal is the Roosevelt habit of hitting the oftener as the going becomes hard. Compromise has not been a major part of the New Deal program since Mr. Roosevelt took over in Washington on March 4, 1933.

There will be divers'ty of judgement whether Tuesday's voting materially reduced Mr. Roosevelt's personal popularity or added to his stature in the New Deal-Democratic party by demonstrating the weaknesses of some of his colleagues. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace's 1940 Presidential chances or ambitions—if any—were in at least a morning-after slump as farm belt votes were tabulated in haphazard but persuasively unfriendly expression of dissatisfaction with agricultural program. Crop prices are off and Wallace is far from the top of the "available" list until the prices bounce back more than a little.

Old line Democratic leaders including chairman James A. Farley of the National committee, never looked kindly upon Wallace for 1940, anyway. They regard him as a Johnny-come-lately former Republican to whom they would not offer the White House without a real fight.

Pennsylvania took Democratic Gov. George H. Earle out of the Presidential parade by retiring him to private life. Gov. Frank Murphy, the highest proof New Dealer of them all, fell out of the ranks in Michigan. Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins was partly—perhaps largely responsible for the abortive 1938 effort to "purge" conservatives in Democratic primaries and the political penalty for a bad guess usually is severe.

Communist Leader Praises F. D. R.

CHICAGO—Earl Browder, leader of the Communist party in the United States, said last night that those who are "conducting such a vicious campaign of hatred against President Roosevelt and the New Deal represent the same forces that brought us the 'peace' of Munich and all its consequences."

He charged that former President Herbert Hoover is a representative of Fascism and that "everybody who understands and does not repudiate the proposals of Hoover is an agent of Fascism."

He spoke before 10,000 persons at the Chicago stadium. He said the "treachery" of the Munich pact resulted in collapse of the whole structure of World Peace. The pact, signed by Italy, France, Britain and Germany, granted Germany the right to occupy the Sudeten territory of Czechoslovakia.

"Herbert Hoover announced himself as satisfied with the pact of Munich. He said America should adjust itself to the changes in Europe and that we should announce we will put no obstacle in the path of Fascist conquest of Latin America. This proves beyond question that Fascism already is a great force in this country with Hoover as the Fascist representative."

"President Roosevelt declared there can be no peace under threat of force as a result of surrender to the threat of war. Herbert Hoover won the applause of Berlin. President Roosevelt was acclaimed by Democratic and peace-loving people everywhere."

Alabama Co-Eds Home-makers Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Home-making is the most popular career of the 3,229 women who have received degrees from the University of Alabama. Mrs. Truman Smith, president of the University Alumnae Association, has announced. Teaching ranked second as a favored vocation.

Spaniels Costs and Costs

Omaha, Neb.—Twas an ill omen when E. C. Breum a hunting enthusiast, paid out $100 for a springer spaniel. Two hours later he had lashed the spaniel at home, a neighbor bulldog made his entrance on the Breum premises. The spaniel's doctor bill was $25.

Child Runs Away—To Library

Sapulpa, Okla.—The three year old daughter of Mrs. Steve Smith put running away from home on an intellectual basis. Anxious parents found her, after several hours search, in the Sapulpa public library. She said that she was looking at a picture book.

Twins Separated Early

Pittsboro, Ont.—Twin baby girls born to Mrs. Ward Whiteaker arrived at different times and places. The first twin was born at the mother's home at Winchester Springs, 40 miles from here, and two hours later the second child was born.

Doll Collectors to Organize

Cleveland.—A collection of 1,000 dolls of all ages and nationalities was exhibited here by Miss Mary Lewis, a doll collectors' Society. Unusual materials used in the composition of the dolls on display included: cactus, pewter, stone, clay, cornhusks and wood.

Philatelist by Luck

New Orleans.—Herman Herst Jr., of New York City said during the American Philatelic convention here that put him in the stamp collecting business. While working for a bond firm, Herst, an amateur stamp collector, was looking over a dealer's collection and found a valuable stamp. He bought it for $3, paid $100 more for a bill of sale and later sold it for $3,450.

Coon Ousts Squirrels

CONNEAUT, O.—A raccoon took advantage of "squatters' rights" by taking possession of a squirrels' nest, in an oak tree here and refusing to move out upon the squirrels' return.

One Service All Are Interested In

There is one division of the State Department in which every one is interested and that is the Crippled Children's Service, because the appeal of a crippled child is as broad and deep as the human emotions.

The general purpose of the Crippled Children's Service is to provide aid in securing facilities for diagnosis, hospitalization, medical, surgical, corrective and after care for crippled children.

The year just closing seems to have been the end of the infantile paralysis epidemic which has swept the state leaving about 600 crippled children in its path. Most of these children will need care for several years; some all their lives.

The Crippled Children's Service and the State Department of Education of which it is a part, wish to express deep appreciation for the cooperation given to this division through the two and a half years of its existence by the schools, the health and welfare departments, the civic and social clubs, and many interested individuals. Without this cooperation not all of the 953 crippled children which have been under the care of the Crippled Children's Division during the year just passed could have received the services that it has been able to render.

SEGREGATION IN DRINKING BELIEVED RIGHT MOVE

LANSING, Mich.—Edward W. McFarland, chairman of the Michigan liquor control commission, believes liquor establishments should be required to establish separate drinking rooms for men or women without escorts.

"Such a rule," he said, "would help to solve one of our very serious moral problems."

The liquor chairman contended that the molestation of unaccompanied men and women in bars is one of the most serious social evils that has accompanied repeal. He believes that separate rooms would, in the long run, be cheaper for the operator of the establishment.

WOODLAND, Calif. — In an effort to realize on its assets, this city auctioned off its old city jail. It brought $17.50.

Storm Warnings On Florida Coast

MIAMI, Fla.—Northeast storm warnings were raised today along the Florida East Coast as a late-season tropical storm swirled through the Bahama Islands.

At 1 a. m. the storm was centered about 75 or 100 miles southeast of Nassau, the Bahama capital, and was apparently moving to the northwest, the federal hurricane warning system reported.

The storm appeared to have less strength than reported last night. The maximum intensity indicated by ship and island reports early today was 50 miles an hour. Sixty-mile squalls were reported last night.

The warning system emphasized that the storm was not of hurricane strength—75 miles an hour or greater—but missing of storm warnings was advice to residents of exposed islands and beaches to "exercise caution."

"Tides will be above normal and the sea rough along and off the Florida East Coast and the Florida Straits and small craft should be in port until further notice," the system advised.

Insane, Woman Throws Baby Into A Coal Heater

COLUMBUS, Ga.—Mrs. Lucile M. Adams, middle-aged widow, was ordered committed to the State Mental Hospital today after a Muscogee county jury found she had been insane when she threw a baby into a coal heater.

Two physicians testified that Mrs. Adams was insane when the defense entered a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity in the death of Priscille Ann Turner, aged three months.

The Turner baby died shortly after it was burned last Oct. 29. Its mother, Mrs. T. E. Turner, testified she left the baby in the care of Mrs. Adams and returned a few minutes later to find it in the heater. Mrs. Turner was severely burned in attempting to rescue the child.

"Down Under" Radio Strong

CNEBERRA, Australia — Australia's response to the war fever of the world is to improve national defense by construction of the largest radio station in the British Empire. It will be completed in 1940 and will provide day and night communications with all warships in Australia and adjacent waters and with the naval radio stations throughout the world.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—Night club owners apparently are the world's greatest fans of tiger clubs. When the Night Club Owners Association of this city held its first annual convention and round-up, it put on, as amusement for themselves, a floor show.

Diversification Benefits Farmers

With the southward referendum on cotton marketing scheduled for December, a state-wide information campaign on the 1939 farm program slated to get underway Monday, a five-year review of farm progress should be interesting.

Cold facts show that Mississippi farmers during the past five years under AAA have made remarkable progress in increasing farm income, in improving soil fertility, in growing more of the food and feed needed for home and farm requirements, in developing a more profitable livestock industry and improving rural living.

Following the adjustment in production and improvement in prices of cotton, the provision of government payments to producers who cooperated in the program and devaluation of the dollar Mississippi farm cash income was increased from $68,931,000 in 1932 to $103,073,000 in 1933, $123,619,000 in 1934, $140,253,000 in 1935, $189,915,000 in 1936, and $177,810,000 in 1937.

Government payments from August, 1933 through 1937 totaled $9,000,000. Payments to Mississippi producers for cooperating in the 1938 program will total over $20,000,000.

Farmers have made better use of their land and improved the fertility of their soil. More than a million acres have been diverted annually from the production of soil-depleting crops to the growing of soil-improving crops. Carrying out soil-building practices in 1937 for payment Mississippi farmers:

Sowed 16,500 acres to alfalfa. Planted 718,000 acres to legumes. Plowed under, exclusive of lespedeza, 242,000 acres of summer legumes.

Flowed under 432,000 acres of winter legumes.

Flowed under 3,000 acres of green manure crops, such as rye and oats, and 1,500 acres of mixed grasses and legumes.

Established 30,000 acres of permanent pasture adapted to grasses and clovers.

Set 900 acres of trees.

Applied 828,000 pounds of ground limestone, 250,000 pounds of 16 per cent superphosphate, 3,712,000 pounds of basic slag, and 44,000 pounds of manganese sulphate on soil conserving crops.

Built 44,181,000 feet of terraces. Established 2,000 feet of contours and 159,000 feet of contour ridges on pastures.

Earned $1,795,645 in carrying out the above listed soil-building practices.

Farmers have largely increased acreage planted to summer legumes. The increased acreage in summer legumes planted by Mississippi farmers in 1937 over the 1928-32 five-year average included 48,000 acres of alfalfa, 100,000 acres of cowpeas for hay, 3,400 acres of peanuts for hay, 113,000 acres of soybeans for hay, 42,000 acres of lespedeza for hay, 360,000 acres of soybeans interplanted in corn, 123,000 acres of soybeans for grazing or plowing under, 343,000 acres of cowpeas interplanted in corn, 104,000 acres of cowpeas for grazing or plowing under, 31,000 acres of soybeans for seed, and 83,000 acres of cowpeas for seed.

The result of this extensive soil-building program along with the selection of the best land, the use of good seed of adapted varieties and proper cultivation has been to largely increase the per acre yield of lint cotton. The yield of lint cotton in Mississippi has been increased from 185.6 pounds in 1934, 218 pounds in 1935, 304 pounds in 1936, despite unfavorable weather, boll weevils, cotton hoppers, and armyworms.

The significance of this increase in the per acre yields of cotton is the remarkable fact that despite the cut in cotton acreage Mississippi farmers have increased cotton production from an average of 1,459,000 bales for the 1928-32 period to 1,729,000 bales during the past five years, a gain of 170,000 bales a year.

Farmers have produced more food and feed for the family and the livestock on farms. Gains in crop production in 1937 over the 1928-32 five-year average included 14,000,000 bushels of corn 591,000 bushels of oats, 428,000 tons of hay, 600,000 bushels of Irish potatoes, and 1,831,000 gallons of sugarcane syrup. The U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics' latest crop report carries estimates of still further increases in crop production in 1938 for corn, oats, hay, sweet potatoes and peanuts.

Farmers have improved the quality and increased the income from livestock. Cash income from the sale of livestock and livestock products jumped to $26,275,000 in 1937 and registered another gain of $3,189,000 during the first eight months of 1938. Workstock production programs have been inaugurated throughout the state and thousands of farmers are now raising their own mules.

Home Storage Of Vegetables

Temperature is the most important consideration in storing any vegetable through the winter. Pumpkins, squashes, and sweet potatoes keep best where the air is warm and dry. Onions do well in an upstairs room or attic. White potatoes and most of the root vegetables need a storage place of their own, partitioned off from the main part of the cellar and provided with at least two openings to the outer air for ventilation. The partition need not be elaborate. It may be one board thick and covered with building paper to stop the passage of warm air, if near the heating unit. An earth floor is more desirable than concrete or brick, because it supplies a certain amount of moisture.

Where there is no basement or where it is impossible to partition off a separate storage room, outdoor storage in a pit or storage cellar is preferable. A good storage cellar is often dug in the side of a hill, which contributes part of the necessary insulation that prevents the vegetables from freezing. Earth, sod, straw, or corn fodder helps to protect the products in an outside storage place.

Several small outdoor pits are preferable to one large one. The best storage temperature for potatoes has been found to be 50 to 55 degrees. Celery and a small supply of carrots, beets, salsify, and parsnips for immediate use may also be kept in the cellar storage room with the potatoes. Apples should not be stored with vegetables that have a pronounced odor as they will absorb such odors, thereby producing unpleasant flavors in the fruit.

Cabbage and turnips should never be kept in the cellar. They are best buried in the open or kept in a suitable outdoors cellar along with the main supply of root crops but in a separate bin or compartment.

Whether the vegetables are kept indoors or outside, good products will not come out of storage unless good products are put in.

To Study Drainage Of Yalobusha

Chancery Clerk, John Pressgrove, has received the following communication from Congressman A. L. Ford, which should be of interest to all the people along the Yalobusha River.

Ackerman, Miss., Nov. 5, 1938
Mr. John Pressgrove,
Grenada, Miss.

Dear Mr. Pressgrove:
Col. Raymond G. Moses, District Engineer, War Department, Vicksburg, Miss., has advised that he will meet with me and other interested parties at the Legion Hut in Calhoun City on Saturday, November 12th, at 2 p. m. for the purpose of discussing present plans and possible future projects for the drainage of the Yalobusha River.

I would be glad if you can attend and would thank you to give the meeting as much publicity as possible in order that we may secure the attendance of a good crowd of landowners and other interested parties.

Your friend,
A. L. FORD.

Franco Says Rebels Have Won

By JAMES I. MILLER
NATIONALIST FIELD HEADQUARTERS. Ebro Front—Gen. Francisco Franco, leader of Nationalist Spain, declared in an interview at his Mobile Field Headquarters that the Civil War already had been won by the Nationalists and that fighting would cease as soon as Republican soldiers broke the influence of their officers.

In post-war Spain, Franco said, the Nationalists expect a land of plenty in which capital will be respected but will be forced to fulfill its social functions to produce work and liberate energy through which Franco hopes to restore Spain to its former prestige as a world power.

Franco said he did not intend to establish a liberal, Democratic regime such as that of the United States, but rather one of strong leadership and domination of national life by the state. However, he said, he did not intend to transplant intact to Spain the regime of any other country, such as Germany or Italy, emphatically not their racist policy.

I asked Franco when he thought the war would be won. He replied promptly:

"We have already won the war. I do not like to prognosticate when the fighting will cease, but the Reds are in the position of a besieged citadel. Their leaders still resist because there are still people who can be led into battle to die for them."

"Do you need foreign volunteers or do you believe the nationalist army alone can win the final victory?" I asked.

"Emphatically no," Franco said. "We are not dependent on foreign fighters. We never have had more than a maximum of five per cent of foreigners in our army."

Facts on Terracing Demonstration

Get your pencil and paper, Grenada Farmers. Here's some facts from the terracing demonstration on Mr. Will Jennings' place.

Mr. Jennings was going to lose $66.00 in soil building payments for the year of 1938, which he could earn by building 8800 feet of terrace, at 75c per 100 feet.

He hired this terracing unit and paid $42.00 for its use. Here's what this unit did for him for $42.00, built 9344 lineal feet of terraces, also 2424 feet of drainage ditch. Since the terraces are now built, Mr. Jennings will receive $66.00 Government payment which otherwise he would have lost therefore, besides getting the 8800 feet built, which the government pays for, He gets $24.00 cash for it plus 544 extra feet of terraces over the required 8800 plus a 2424 foot drainage ditch. Does this show that it's good business for the Grenada County Farmers to have one of these units?

The nine thousand dollar Grenada county will lose for 1938 has therefore been reduced by $66.00. That helps the merchants, the banks, etc. as no doubt this $900,000 would be if we were going to get it.

The demonstrations being staged in different parts of the county are for your benefit. To see what can be done, attend these demonstrations and if you think the farmers of Grenada county should have one, petition your Board of Supervisors. Under a recent law they are authorized to get one for the farmers if they want it.

Here's the schedule of demonstrations. Attend one of them and I will be glad to explain the program further to you.

Arkansas Farmer Resists Officers

BENTONVILLE, Ark.—Capt. Cliff Atkinson of Arkansas State police threatened today to take drastic action against Charles Nowlin, 50-year old farmer who threatened to kill a Gravette banker and then barricaded himself in his log cabin to resist successfully three attempts to arrest him.

Atkinson said he would give the farmer until sunset this evening to come out and surrender. When Nowlin learned that James Banks, Gravette banker, planned to sell his farm at auction Saturday, the farmer warned Banks that he was going to kill him if the plan was carried out, officers said.

Banks asked constable Bob Neeley to jail Nowlin on a peace bond and Neeley set out to serve a warrant.

But as he approached the rude log cabin, a shiny rifle was poked out a window and an indignant voice inside warned: "Get back there or I start shooting."

Neeley had known Nowlin long enough to know the farmer meant business and he went back to Gravette for aid. With two deputies he returned to the cabin. When the trio got out of an automobile and approached the farmhouse, the sharp report of a rifle was heard and a bullet whizzed over their heads.

They ran for shelter as three more bullets whined past them. The officers returned to Gravette, where Neeley telephoned state police at Little Rock asking for aid.

Capt. Atkinson and five other state patrolmen came here, joined Neeley and four deputies and returned to the cabin.

They were met by Nowlin's friends, who acted as arbiters to prevent an attack on the cabin with bullets and tear gas. They persuaded Nowlin to promise to come here today and surrender, but they doubted that he would do it.

Capt. Atkinson said they would storm the cabin at sunset unless Nowlin surrenders.

Firemen Hurt Answering A False Alarm

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Five firemen were in a hospital today as result of a collision of two fire trucks at a street intersection. Two were in serious condition. The trucks were speeding to answer a false alarm turned in by a nine-year old boy.

MELBORNE—E. Rich. F. Voels' alleged grounds for divorce were rather unusual. He complained to the court that his wife attended Communist meetings and that she made him sleep in the chicken coop. He also mentioned that she called him "a yellow dog."

Gas Co. Charged With Combination

WILMINGTON, Del.—The Department of Justice filed an anti-trust suit against Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation today for allegedly conspiring to monopolize the natural gas in four states.

The government's complaint, filed in the U. S. District Court, also charged the corporation with violation of the Clayton Act by acquiring 75 per cent of the stock of a former competitor.

In addition to the corporation, charges of violation of the Sherman and Clayton Anti-trust acts were lodged against its officers and directors and one of its subsidiaries, Warfield Natural Gas Company.

The complaint charged the defendant with engaging in a combination and continuing conspiracy to restrain trade and commerce in natural gas in Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia and Michigan.

Japan To Reply To United States

TOKYO—Foreign Minister Hiroshi Arima intends to make a statement of world importance November 10 on the nine power treaty which is supposed to guarantee China's political and territorial sovereignty, a foreign office spokesman disclosed today.

Coincidentally, the spokesman said Japan expects to reply to a United States Government note protesting "arbitrary and illegal" Japanese tactics affecting American interests in China.

The spokesman took occasion to comment that Japan considered the nine power treaty obsolete. Further, he admitted that Japan was considering a three-power substitute—including Japan, Manchukuo and China—because, as he put it, a guarantee of China's integrity (by the nine powers) was inconsistent with China's independence.

The statement of the government's plans seemed to imply both that the declaration which Arima expects to make and the reply to the United States note would be complementary to each other, and that they would also form part of the general situation presented by a government declaration of China policy and an interpretative statement on this declaration by Prince Fumimaro Konoye, the premier.

Cat Gets Nightly 'Rat'

Pittsburg, Cal.—Mrs. Myrtle Ewald, Proprietor of the Alpine hotel, is authority for the statement that Mercy, the hotel's 4-year-old Persian cat, has brought home a rat every night for the past two years. The only variation have been the occasional nights when it brought back two rats instead of one.

Ole Miss News

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—Well heeled for trouble and expecting plenty of the same, 31 Johnny Rebs embarked late today for an overnight trip to St. Louis and a Homecoming engagement with St. Louis University Saturday.

Playing the role of favorites, yet knowing full well what too much confidence could bring, the crew Harry Mehre was sponsoring to its second consecutive inter-sectional Tiff was thinking only in terms of a tough ball game, and expected to play in its best form.

The stellar Parker Hall, top-heavy candidate for all-Southeastern honors, stood out in practices during the week and for a seventh straight Saturday is expected to lead the Feb brigade into action.

His running mate for all-conference honors, big Kimble Bradley, captain and quarterback of the Mississippi team, who will skipper a fact and extremely mobile backfield against the Billikens was another Red who had been doing well in workouts, and Mehre was depending heavily on the 195 pound blocking back.

Hall and Willard Bisbing will lead the air raids, with the same pair, plus Johnny Whittington, Jimmy Tillman and Erm Smith to be top men for ground forays.

Mehre has been working overtime on the team's air defense, planning that no upset shall be manufactured along these lines. He has warned his squad that St. Louis possesses one of the best pass attack they will face all season.

Save for George Kinard, husky sophomore guard, Ole Miss will go into the fray without physical handicaps. In the line Mehre will use Jesse Ward and Anse Blackwell on the flanks, Frank Hart and Horace Dossett at the tackles, Lake Roberson and Sammy Lyles at the guards and the rough and tough Winkley Autrey at center.

Britain Has Air Disaster Today

LONDON—Fourteen persons were killed today when a Jersey Airways airplane crashed about 550 yards from the airport at St. Helier, Jersey, in the Channel Islands, while trying to land in fog.

The victims included 11 passengers, one of them a baby, the pilot and wireless operator of the plane, and a man who was working in the field.

To enjoy work, a woman must feel well. Cardui aids in building up the whole system by helping women to get more energy from their food—and so increases resistance to the strain of functional periodic pain. Try it!

CARDUI

YOU CAN DEPEND ON THE WEBER WAGON

For Years of Hard Work
If you need a strong, light-draft wagon for hard use over all kinds of going, you can't get any wagon better than the Weber. And it is priced right, too.

Thoroughly seasoned "A" grade lumber is used in the wheels, axles, reach, and tongue. The finest oak and hickory are used in the wheels, and the steel tires and hub bands are put on to stay by a hydraulic press.

Weber farm gears and boxes have been giving the most satisfactory service for nearly a hundred years. Don't buy any wagon until you have examined the Weber. Various capacities and sizes available to meet practically every hauling need.

Nazis Renew Bitter Jewish Persecutions

BERLIN—Nazi authorities began rounding up Jews throughout Germany and Austria today after a night of terror during which mobs roamed the streets of cities and towns, wrecking Jewish shops and setting fire to Jewish synagogues, in vengeance for the fatal shooting of a German embassy secretary at Paris by a 17 year-old Jew.

An official news agency dispatch said, it was estimated that anti-Jewish outbreaks occurred in countless towns and that synagogues were fired in most towns.

As regards the arrest, the official news agency explained that owners of Jewish shops in many towns were taken into custody "for their own protection."

In Austria, a United Press dispatch said, it was estimated that from 2,000 to 3,000 Jews were arrested in Vienna alone, as part of a national round-up of Jews whose identification papers were not in order.

An American physician, Dr. Laurence K. Etter of Los Angeles, was arrested and held for two hours at a precinct police station here because he tried to take miniature motion pictures of smashed shops.

Many others, including several Norwegians, Swedes and Danes, and numerous Germans, were arrested merely for possessing cameras.

One German was arrested because, it was charged, he remarked that the anti-Jewish riots were shameful.

The outbreaks started at 2 a. m. today, continued to 4, subsided and broke out again at 6:30.

The official news agency, after carrying only fragmentary comments on the outbreaks, issued the following communique at noon:

"The death of a young German diplomat at Paris caused extraordinary indignation throughout Germany in view of the criminal provocation by international Jewry.

"Spontaneous anti-Jewish demonstrations occurred in countless towns. The populations set fire to Jewish synagogues in most towns. The fire brigade in many cases was only able to protect neighboring buildings. In many cities in the Reich, windows of Jewish shops were smashed and Jewish shops were occasionally set afire.

"Owing to the extraordinary excitement among the population, merchandise contained in shops was partly destroyed.

"In Berlin, Jewish shops in the Kurfurstendamm and other districts were destroyed.

"Owners of Jewish shops in many towns were taken into custody for their own protection."

A crowd of several hundred stood in mid-morning watching a synagogue in the Kurfurstendamm burning. The building was afire in several places and the roof had collapsed. Crowds stood in front of wrecked shops.

At 12:30 p. m. (6:30 a. m. EST) gangs were still destroying shop windows and their contents in the Unter Den Linden section in the heart of Berlin.

A dispatch to the United Press from Hamburg said that shop windows were smashed there and that three synagogues were invaded and damaged.

The United Press correspondent at Cologne said that a wave of anti-Jewish outbreaks swept over that entire area as far as Aix La Chapelle during the night. Mobs smashed the windows of Jewish shops, scattered the contents, and smashed the windows of Jewish homes—some as high as the third floor. A mob broke into a synagogue, the dispatch said, uprooted seats and flung vestments into the street and then set fire to the building.

After these incidents, the Cologne correspondent said, special police were detailed to control large crowds of disorderly persons.

Destruction of Jewish shops in Berlin reached the proportions of a Macabre holiday in the early afternoon in the Unterdenlinden section.

Thousands of pedestrians chatted and laughed as they watched the systematic destruction of shops in the so-called Grosse passage which connects the Unterdenlinden with the Friedrichstrasse.

Organized groups of men in civilian clothes methodically broke not only show windows but destroyed the contents of Jewish shops, including one large brick and brace store where porcelain vases were hurled like baseballs through glass show cases.

Reports from cities and small towns kept coming in, indicating apparently that synagogues in virtually every locality were set afire and in many instances destroyed.

Lafollette, The Radical Beaten

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Wisconsin rejected Gov. Philip F. Lafollette and his New Deal party, National Progressives of America, today and went Republican.

In returning the Republican party to power for the first time since 1930, Wisconsin voters retired one loyal New Dealer, Sen. F. Ryan Duffy, Democrat in a show of strength that threatened Sen. Robert N. Lafollette, Jr., with the fate of his governor-brother in 1940. They also marked up victories in Congress, state offices, and the legislature.

Returns from 2,231 of the state's 2,995 precincts for governor: Lafollette, 222,895; Heil 345,817; and Harry W. Bolens, D., 89,915.

The 41 year old governor gathered all liberal groups, including Wisconsin's Socialists, to his cross-and-circle banner, insignia of the NPA. His opponents effected a stronger coalition, with the naturally Conservative State Democratic party swinging most of its vote to Julius P. Heil, the successful Republican candidate.

Lafollette first came into office in 1931, defeating Gov. Walter J. Kohler, last Republican executive of the state, after Progressives had failed to oust Kohler in the courts on charges of executive campaign expenditures. They already have started similar proceedings against Heil.

Women Viewed As War Pilots

AKRON, O.—Jacqueline Cochran believes that women are not fitted emotionally for the job of piloting airliners, although she successfully competed with male pilots to win the Bendix trophy in this year's National Air Races in Cleveland.

"My aviation experiences have convinced me that women would not make good air line pilots—we could not stand the steady grind," she said. Women pilots in wartime? That is a different matter, said Miss Cochran.

"In the strain and stress of war, women fliers would rise to the emergency and do a marvelous piece of work," she said.

Miss Cochran "dropped in" to speak at the Akron women's chapter of the National Aeronautic association. For the first time, she revealed her early struggles while gaining recognition as a flier.

"Six years ago I was quite an unknown person, working in a store in New York," she said.

"I left a good position to buy a small airplane. From then on things began to happen to me thick and fast."

She emphasized, however, that for every "lucky break" she had, she had had 20 discouraging ones. "My first plane cracked up on a take-off. The one school of piloting I wanted to enter was closed to women. Then I had a severe illness," she said.

"Although I finally 'crashed through' to the field of big-time aviation, I do not consider myself a heroine in any sense of the word. The real flying heroines were those who piloted planes 10, 15 and 20 years ago."

Miss Cochran said that she was a very close friend of Amelia Earhart and really had learned to fly because of Amelia's encouragement.

"Amelia spent much of the last six months of her life—before her attempted 'round-the-world flight—at my ranch," the aviatrix said.

"Had Amelia's flight materialized, I was to use her plane to make a Paris flight."

This year's Bendix trophy winner recently was selected as the one woman member of a new youth movement in aviation, headed by Winthrop Rockefeller, John D. Rockefeller's grandson.

Ole Miss News

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—Out of state representation was assured today for the first annual "High School Day" celebration at the University of Mississippi Saturday with the announcements by two West Tennessee bands that they would be present for the festivities.

The Whitehaven High School band, directed by Maurice Haste, will bring 65 pieces to the University to participate in the mammoth pre-game drill Saturday afternoon.

The other Tennessee band that will attend is the Millington High musical organization, composed of 45 pieces and directed by A. E. McClain.

The Tupelo High band will lead the student body in the celebration of a "Britt Roger's Day" by Tupelo students and alumni. A delegation of 400 is scheduled to honor Mr. Rogers, Tupelo businessman and a member of the Ole Miss athletic committee, with their appearance on the Mississippi campus.

Other bands that will attend and the number of pieces each will bring are: Moorhead, 40; Grenada, 50; Oxford, 50; Aberdeen, 25; and Indianapolis, 35. Charleston will also have a band.

Schools to be represented by members of their student bodies are Enid, Hernando, Pleasant Grove, Potts Camp, Belmont, Coffeeville, Amory, Canton, Benoit and Cumberland.

The feature of the day's program honoring the high school students will be a renewal in friendship relations between Ole Miss and Sewanee. Fraternity and sorority open houses and the annual "M" Club fall dance will also be held to entertain the visitors.

Cotton Men

Plan Meet

STONEVILLE, Miss.—Representatives from 15 cotton-producing states will meet at Memphis, Tenn., November 21 to perfect the organization of the National Cotton Council, a movement designed to bring consumption in line with production through market expansion and new uses.

Oscar Johnston of Scott, former director of the U. S. cotton pool and a leader in the movement to unite cotton forces, announced the meeting today after two months spent in organizing state councils for consolidation in the national body. State groups were composed of producers, ginners, warehousemen, crushers and merchant-shippers.

Food For Thought

We have a law, written in our Statute books of the State of Mississippi to vaccinate (or inoculate) every dog of the age of six months or over, against Rabies, approved by the State Legislature, April 4th, 1908, and if I have my dog or dogs vaccinated, and my neighbor doesn't, and if one of their dogs go mad and bite my horse, mule, cow or one of my family, some one is responsible. Now who is it, the man who owns the dog, or the enforcement officer of the county? This is a serious thought, so we plead for every one who owns or have in their possession a dog six months or over to have them vaccinated.

HOW the RED CROSS SERVES the NATION

FLOOD HAVOC—Unprecedented rains brought dry river beds to flood stage in Southern California, and Red Cross aided thousands of persons whose homes were swept away, as shown here.

A DAY BRIGHTENED—Red Cross nurse's visit to a shut-in brings healing touch.

STAND BY FOR RESCUE—A trained First Aider in Red Cross Highway First Aid Station prepared to aid the injured.

A YEAR'S RECORD

July 1, 1937—June 30, 1938

Minor disasters were unusually frequent; 102 tornadoes, floods, and other catastrophes brought the Red Cross into action to feed, clothe, give medical care and rehabilitate 93,000 people.

War veterans and their dependents, numbering 220,000, aided during the year.

Men in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, numbering 55,000, helped in personal and family problems.

Safety in water sports, and first aid in accidents extended through training 82,000 Life Savers and 276,000 First Aiders. Fight against deaths from motor accidents extended through 2,365 Highway First Aid Stations.

Public Health Nurses visited a million sick persons; examined 610,000 children.

How to care for the sick in the home and guard the family's health taught 55,000 persons, through Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick courses.

Volunteers made 520,000 garments for disaster victims and the needy; brailled and printed 720,000 pages for the blind.

School children, numbering 9,000,000, enrolled in Junior Red Cross for service.

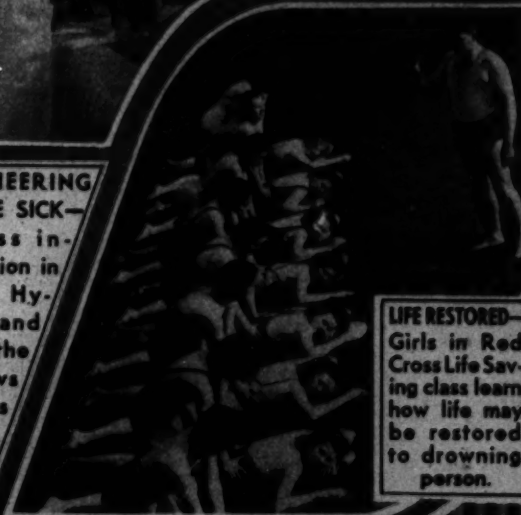

Your membership in the Red Cross supports the work. Join during the annual Roll Call.

HELPING HANDS—Thousands of women volunteers make possible Red Cross services; Norman H. Davis, new Chairman of Red Cross, thanks a group of loyal workers.

CHEERING THE SICK—Class instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick shows simple ways to ease the pain of the invalid.

LIFE RESTORED—Girls in Red Cross Life Saving class learn how life may be restored to drowning person.

YOUTH SERVES—Junior Red Cross boys and girls view nations on world map where children cooperate for good will.

HOME HAZARDS—Red Cross campaigns for safety in the home; falls such as this claim great toll of life.
